Eye on the Tigers

Princeton is at the top of the Ivy League with a 6-1 record, its lone loss at Harvard on Feb. 4. The squad is 17-4 overall and 9-0 at home this season. The Tigers average 68.9 points per game and hold teams to 53.2 for a league best scoring margin of +15.6. They shoot 44 percent from the field, 40.5 percent from downtown and 69.2 percent from the free throw line. Senior Addie Micir leads the team in scoring with 12.9 points per game and is one of the best free throw and three point shooters in the league. She is 84 percent from the line and 46.9 percent from long range, making 61 this season. Micir has 61 assists, just one behind the team leader, Lauren Polansky. The league's best shooter, Devona Allgood, adds 12.3 points per game, making 55.1 percent of her shots. She leads the team in rebounds with 6.8 per games and has 28 blocks. Junior Lauren Edwards chips in 11.2 points and 4.9 rebounds per game and follows Allgood in blocks with 16. In addition to being the team's assist leading, Polansky adds a team-high 43 steals, with Edwards and senior Krystal Hill tied for the second most with 25.

Last Time Out

Columbia - Both teams struggled offensively in the first half, as Princeton shot 7 for 28 and Columbia shot 4 for 32. The Tigers would get 29 points from its bench, while the Lions had just seven. Princeton dominated the paint with 30 points inside. A 14-1 Princeton run in the first half would help the Tigers to a 20-11. Columbia would only get as close as 11 in the second half, as Princeton would go up by as much as 25, to win 57-35.

Cornell - Devona Allgood scored a career-high 22 points in Princeton's second 22-point victory of the weekend. The Tigers started with a 17-5 run, but Cornell responded with a run to make it a two-point game at halftime, 23-21. Princeton would score 15 in the first seven minutes of the second to go up by nine and would expand that lead by as much as 24, to win 65-43.

The Princeton/Yale Series

Princeton is 44-30 in the all-time series with Yale, which dates back to 1973. The Tigers are 24-10 at home and have won the last four meetings, including a 52-37 game on Jan. 29.

Scouting the Bulldogs

Yale is 10-12 on the season and 6-2 in conference play to sit in second place in the Ivy League standings. The Bulldogs swept Harvard and Dartmouth last weekend at home, beating the Crimson by 82-71 and the Big Green 66-53. Yale is just 3-6 when playing away from home. Besides Yale's loss to Princeton, the team's other league loss was at Columbia on Feb. 5, falling 67-57. Yale scores 61.7 points per game, a -2.6 scoring margin. They shoot 37.3 percent from the floor, 30.2 percent from behind the arc and 69.1 from the stripe. Megan Vasquez, Mady Gobrecht and Janna Graf are all in double figures in scoring. Vasquez leads the trio with 13.7 points per game. Gobrecht adds 11.6 points per game, leads the team in blocks with 19 and is second on the team in rebounds with 6.3 per game. Michelle Cashen is first in boards with 6.6 per game and adds 15 blocks. Graf chips in 10 points per game. Aarica West leads the team in assists with 83 and in steals with 39.

Last Time We Met

It was a second half surge with Lauren Edwards leading the charge as Princeton turned in a 52-37 win over Yale on Saturday, Jan. 29 at Lee Amphitheater. After scoring just one basket in the first half, Edwards would score nearly half of her team's second-half points with 15 of the Tigers' 32.

It was a back and forth affair in the first half that saw eight lead changes and two scoring ties, as Princeton struggled to find its rhythm on either end of the court.

The Tigers' offense started to come together and the defense clamped down, holding Yale to 4-for-19 shooting in the second half. Princeton also forced Yale into seven turnovers in the first 13 minutes, which enabled the Tigers to take the lead.

A three by Jenna Graf stretched Yale's lead to five at the start of the second half, but the Tigers responded with back-to-back layups to make it a one-point game, 25-24 at 17:39. Two minutes later Devona Allgood had the game tied at 26-26.

A three-point play by Addie Micir gave Princeton its first lead since 2:11 in the first half, when she gave her team a 29-28 lead at 14:40. Edwards gave the Tigers' a three-point lead with a jumper 40 seconds later, 31-28.

After a basket by Graf, Edwards scored a pull-up jumper that would spark not only the offense, as Princeton went on a 14-1 run to make it a 15-point game, but also on the defensive end as Yale would be held scoreless from the field for 10:04.

An Allie Messimer layup at 3:42 would end the Bulldogs drought but the damage had already been done, as Princeton went on to the 52-37 win.

Mady Gobrecht opened the game with a layup and would be the only Bulldog to swish the net, as she scored nine points in the first 5:26. Princeton would get its nine points from Lauren Polansky, Allgood and Edwards, as the team's stood tied at 9-9 at 13:24.

A three by Messimer gave Yale its largest lead, 13-9, at 10:41. Princeton responded with a 7-2 run to take the lead, 18-17, on a layup by Micir at 4:25. It would be shortlived as Alicia Seelaus responded her next trip down the court with a lay-in.

Kate Miller would score on a layup to put Princeton ahead by one, 20-19, before Yale ended the half with three points to take a 22-20 lead into the locker room.

The last time the team trailed an Ivy game at halftime was against Dartmouth on March 5, when the Tigers were down 26-21 and came back to win 64-43.

Micir finished with a game-high 18 points and led the team on the glass with seven rebounds. Allgood would add nine and six rebounds. Miller led the team in steals with three steals while Polansky dished out a team-high four assists. Princeton shot 47.8 percent overall, 54.5 percent from the line and 25 percent from long range.

Gobrecht paced the Bulldog offense with 13 points, a team-high six rebounds, three blocks and three assists. Messimer and Graf contributed seven points. Aarica West added five rebounds. The team shot 30.2 percent overall, 61.5 percent from the charity stripe and 16.7 percent from behind the arc.

The Princeton/Brown Series

Princeton owns a 35-29 lead in the all-time series with Brown since 1974 and is on a 10-game winning stretch against the Rhode Island team. The Tigers are 21-10 when playing the Bears at Jadwin.

Scouting the Bears

Brown is on a three-game winning streak, beating Cornell on the road and sweeping Dartmouth and Harvard at home. Prior to the three games, the Bears went on a winless stretch of eight. Brown is 7-15 overall and 3-5 in the league to sit in sixth place in the league standings. The team is 3-6 when playing away from home. The Bears are scoring 55 points per game, while allowing 61.7 points per game. They shoot 34.9 percent from the floor, 29.5 percent from behind the arc and 68.1 percent from the line. Brown's starting five make up its top five scorers, led by Sheila Dixon. Dixon averages 10.4 points per game and 6 rebounds per game. Lauren Clarke adds 9.8 points and 4.2 rebounds; Hannah Passafuime scored 9.5 points and 4.9 rebounds; Lindsay Nickel averages 9.0 per game and 4.2 rebounds; and Aileen Daniels scores 8.2 points and 5.0 rebounds per game and leads the team in blocks with 11. Dixon and Clarke led the team in assists with 54 and 52, respectively, and steals with 43 and 37. Dixon, Clarke, Nickel and Passafuime aren't shy of the three, making 116 combined.

Last Time We Met

Devona Allgood recorded a double-double and Addie Micir scored 18 as Princeton posted a 70-48 win over Brown on Friday, Jan. 28 at the Pizzitola Sports Center.

Micir hit a three on Princeton's first possession as the Tigers held control of the game from the opening tip. However it would be the long ball that would give Brown a 12-11 lead at 13:42. All 12 points came off of three-point baskets from Lindsay Steele, Hannah Passafuime and two from Lindsay Nickel.

Lauren Edwards and Micir would hit back-to-back baskets from behind the arc to put the Tigers back out ahead, 17-12 midway through the first half. After a layup from Sheila Dixon, Princeton would go on a 9-0 run to take a double-digit lead, 26-14.

Nickel would collect her third three-point basket of the game, as the teams would trade baskets for the final 5:30 of the half.

Edwards would drain another three at the buzzer to give Princeton a 35-22 lead at halftime.

Both teams would have six made threes at the half, with the Tigers shooting 6-for-11 and Brown 6-for-14 from behind the arc.

The Tigers grabbed a 24-point lead, 48-24, with a 13-2 run to start the second half. Micir would hit two more three's and Kate Miller added four points in the stretch.

It would take 10 minutes for Princeton to regain that 24-point lead as Brown responded with an 11-1 run holding Princeton scoreless from the field for 6:41 to make it an 14-point game, 49-35 at 8:29.

Allgood would end Princeton's cold stretch with a layup and one at 8:06, 52-35. The Tigers would take back that 24-point lead on a 9-2 spurt, led by Edwards' five points, making it a 61-37 game at 4:33.

Brown would get as close as 17, 65-48, with 49 seconds left before freshman Alex Rodgers closed out the game with five points.

Micir would match her career best for three's in a game with six, a mark she has reached in six games in her career. Allgood's double-double was her first since Princeton defeated USC in late November, as she scored 10 points and had 11 rebounds. She would also pick up a career-high six blocks. Edwards was also in double digits in scoring with 13 points. Sophomore Meg Bowen was second on the team in rebounds with six, and she also scored six. Junior Laura Johnson led the team in assists with four.

Princeton shot 43.3 percent (26-60) overall, 47.6 percent (10-21) from behind the arc and was 57.1 percent (8-14) from the stripe.

Nickel would score 11 points to lead the Bears in scoring. Aileen Daniels and Passafuime had seven each, while Dixon added six and a team-high four steals. Daniels and Passafuime had five rebounds apiece. Brown shot 29.5 percent (18-61) overall, 30 percent from long range (6-20) and went 6-for-9 from the line.

It's All Good

Junior Devona Allgood was named the Ivy League Player of the Week, it was announced by the league office on Monday, Feb 14. Allgood led Princeton in scoring and rebounding as the Tigers had a 2-0 week. On Saturday, Allgood posted a career-high 22 points in Princeton's 65-43 win over Cornell. She shot an incredible 8-for-9 from the field, to improve on her league leading field goal percentage. Allgood added a game-high eight rebounds, two assists and two steals. As Princeton started the game on a 17-5 run, Allgood had seven of her team's points. She also ended Princeton's nearly six minute scoring drought in the first half. Allgood scored the first four points of the second half to put the Tigers back up by six, 27-21 less than two minutes in and would have 10 of Princeton's 15 points in the first seven minutes, giving her team a 37-28 lead at 12:51. The night before, Allgood had a game-high 13 points, seven rebounds, a block and a steals in Princeton's 57-35 win over Columbia. This is Allgood's second Player of the Week honor this season.

We're Well Rounded

Princeton has had four different players named Ivy League Player of the Week, more than any other team in the league. Junior Devona Allgood has been honored twice, sophomore Niveen Rasheed twice, junior Lauren Edwards one and senior Addie Micir once. Yale is next on the list with three different players earning the honors.

Common Foes

Princeton is 8-1 against the same eight opponents Yale has played, while Yale is 6-3. Princeton defeated Columbia, Delaware and FDU while Yale lost to all three. Yale defeated Harvard, while Princeton lost. Princeton is 6-1 against the similar opponents of Brown, with the Bears 3-4. Princeton beat Columbia, Penn and Yale, while Brown lost to all three. Brown also defeated Harvard while Princeton lost.

Honey I'm Home

Princeton is in the middle of an 18-game home winning streak, dating back to Dec. 12, 2009. It is the 10th longest home court win streak in the NCAA. The Tigers set a record for wins at home last season going 12-1 on its home court. Princeton's last loss at home was its only loss at home last year, a 60-50 game to Rutgers.

Welcome Home

Princeton is one of three teams in the Division I that has both its men's and women's team undefeated at home this season. The Tigers are joined by Duke, whose teams are 27-0 at home, and McNeese State whose squads are 20-0. Princeton is 19-0 at home this season.

The Final Countdown

- Princeton had the fourth-longest conference win streak in the nation, halted by Harvard on Feb. 5. The Tigers had won 22 straight, behind Connecticut, Stanford and Gonzaga.
- Princeton was also one of the final three schools in the nation to have both its men's and women's programs undefeated, along with Harvard and Xavier.
- Princeton won a stretch of 19 Ivy League games by double digits from March 7, 2009 to Jan. 29, 2011.
- Princeton's loss to St. Joseph's on Dec. 19 marked the Tigers first loss to a team not ranked or receiving votes since Nov. 25, 2009 when it fell to UCLA, 69-59 at Pauley Pavilion.

Welcome to the Club

Addie Micir scored her 1,000th career point on against La Salle on Jan. 4. She became the 18th women's basketball player in Princeton history to reach 1,000 points. She ranks 14th all-time in scoring.

February Figures

Princeton is 3-1 during the month of February this season with two more games to play. Last year, Princeton finished the month of February with an 8-0 record, the first time the team finished undefeated during arguably one of the toughest months of the season. The most wins during February was nine recorded in 1986-87 when the team went 9-1.

Over 80

Princeton has scored over 90 points twice this season and had another 80-point game. Princeton scored 94 points on La Salle on Jan. 4, 90 on Lafayette on Dec. 13 and 87 on Rider on Dec. 5. All three games were played at home. Since 2000, Princeton has scored 80+ points, 23 times. The 2002-03 team had seven 80+ games, while last year's team had four.

Shooter!

Princeton has shot over 50 percent in three games this season, it's best shooting percentage coming against La Salle when the team shot 54.7 (35-64) percent. The Tigers shot 52.6 percent against Navy and 53.6 percent against Lafayette.

The Fine Five

This season the starting five have scored 1,044 of the squad's 1,446 points for 72 percent of the points. Last year Princeton's starting five accounted for 74.8 percent of the team's points, scoring 1535 of 2051. Princeton's bench has scored the majority of the points in one game this year, when it had 38 of Princeton's 75 against Dartmouth. The bench has had 30+ points in four games this year (Rider 36, Lafayette 30, La Salle 38, Dartmouth 38).

All About the Boards

Princeton is 15-2 when outrebounding its opponents or rebounds are even. When the opponent has more rebounds, Princeton is 2-2. The Tigers average 38.4 rebounds per game, a +4.4 margin over its opponents.

Get Ahead

Princeton is 14-1 when leading or tied at halftime. It's lone loss was when leading St. Joseph's, 26-24 at halftime. Princeton was won 50 percent of the games in which it has trailed at halftime. The Tigers are 16-1 when leading with five minutes to play, 1-2 when trailing and 0-1 when tied.

Make it a Double

Princeton is 14-0 when games are decided by more than 10 points. The Tigers have won 75 percent of their games when the game is decided by less, with a 3-4 mark. Princeton defeated USC by one, Davidson by six and Wake Forest by eight. They fell to Rutgers by one, Vanderbilt by six, St. Joseph's by nine and Harvard by six.

Double Trouble

Princeton has lost every game in which it has trailed by double figures this season, going 0 and 4. The Tigers were down by 15 to Rutgers and lost by 1, down 10 to Vanderbilt and lost by six, down 10 to St. Joseph's and lost by nine, and was down 12 to Harvard and fell by six.

Starting with a Three

Princeton has started five games with a three-point basket in five games. The Tigers are 4-1 in those games. Addie Micir has drained a three to start the Penn and Brown games, two of Princeton's last three games. Princeton is nearly undefeated when it scores first, going 10-1, it's only loss to St. Joseph's.

New Team Leaders

Laura Johnson led Princeton in scoring against Harvard with 16 points and Megan Bowen led Princeton at Dartmouth with 14 points. It marked the first time either player has finished as the team's leading scorer in a game.

Extra Basketball

Princeton played and lost a double overtime game at St. Joseph's on Dec. 19. It was Princeton's first overtime game since 2008 and first double overtime game since 2005. The Tigers are now 7-10 when going into extra time.

On the Road Again

Princeton is 8-4 on the road this season, defeating Lehigh, USC, Delaware, Davidson and Wake Forest during the non-conference season, and Brown, Yale and Dartmouth during conference play. The Tigers lost to Rutgers, Vanderbilt, St. Joseph's and Harvard all by single digits. Last year, Princeton went 14-1 on the road, with its lone loss at UCLA.

Leading the League

Princeton leads the league in six of 11 categories including: scoring defense, scoring margin, three-point field goal percentage, rebounding margin, assists and turnover margin. Princeton is second in the remaining five categories:

scoring offense, free-throw percentage, field goal percentage, blocks and steals.

Sharp Shooters

Princeton players make up three of the league's top 10 in field goal percentage. Devona Allgood is tops in the league for the second straight season, scoring at a rate of 55.1 percent. Addie Micir is sixth at 44.7 percent and Lauren Edwards is seventh shooting 43.4 percent.

Stretch it Out

Princeton has the top three highest win margins in the Ivy League, the only team to have beaten an opponent by 40 or more points.

1. Princeton vs. La Salle 43 (94-51)
2. Princeton vs. Rider 42 (87-45)
3. Princeton vs. FDU 41 (78-37)
4. Harvard vs. UNH 33 (96-63)
Harvard vs. Dartmouth 33 (82-49)

Releasing the RPI

The latest NCAA RPI, released on Feb. 14, has Princeton ranked 77th, dropping nine spots from last week. The ratings percentage index is a major factor in determining selection and seeds to the NCAA Tournament. Here's how things shake out for the league in the RPI: Princeton 77, Harvard 180, Yale 222, Penn 293, Brown 298, Dartmouth 301, Columbia 309, Cornell 325. Princeton's highest RPI ranking was in the first poll, earning a rank of 31.

Rookie of the Year Out for the Remainder

Niveen Rasheed will miss the remainder of the 2010-11 women's basketball season. She suffered a torn anterior cruciate ligament (ACL) injury of the right knee on Wednesday, Dec. 29 in a 67-61 win over Davidson.

Mad for Micir

Addie Micir was named the Ivy League Player of the Week and the GoPrincetonTigers.com Athlete of the Week, presented by Coach USA, for the week of Jan. 10. She led Princeton to a 2-0 week and scored her 1,000th career point on her way to her second Ivy League Player of the Week honor of the 2010-11 season. The senior guard became just the 18th player in Princeton women's basketball history to reach the mark and did so on her first shot of the game on Jan. 4 against La Salle, hitting her 38th three-point basket of the season. She finished the game with 17 points, four rebounds, three assists, two steals and one block. On Jan. 8, Micir scored 18 points to lead the Tigers to a win over Penn in the 2011 Ivy League opener. The win extends the Tigers' conference win streak to 20, ranking third in the nation behind Connecticut and Stanford. When

Penn cut a 19-point deficit to seven with 1:44 to play it was Micir that stepped up, hitting a three from the left wing and scored the game's next three points, all coming by way of free throws to give her team back a double-digit lead, 56-43, with 11 seconds left.

From Hollywood California.....Lauren Edwards

Lauren Edwards was named the Ivy League Player of the Week for the week ending January 2. In a 71-63 win over Wake Forest of the ACC, Edwards led all scorers with a season-high 21 points, shooting 6-for-13. She matched her career-best of four three pointers in a game while adding three rebounds, three assists, one block and one assist. In a 67-61 win over Davidson, Edwards scored 11 points and seven rebounds. She added three assists and a block and a steal. This is Edwards' first Player of the Week honor this season, and second time in her career.

Red Hot Rasheed

Niveen Rasheed scored a career-high 28 points, scoring 22 in the first half alone to lead Princeton to a 90-58 win over Lafayette on Monday. Rasheed's 28 points is the most points scored in a game since Becky Brown had 28 against Penn on Jan. 7, 2006. In addition, her 22 first-half points is the most since Meagan Cowher had 22 in the first half against Columbia on Jan. 13, 2006.

She's Got It

Niveen Rasheed was named the Ivy League Player of the Week on Monday, Nov. 22. On Thursday at Rutgers, Rasheed scored 14 points and added seven rebounds against the Scarlet Knights, who received votes in both the preseason AP Poll and ESPN/USA Today Coaches Poll. She added three steals and one assist. Rasheed recorded her first double-double of the season in Princeton's 69-52 win over Lehigh, then ranked No. 18 in the CollegeInsider.com Mid Sajor Top 25. The victory halted Lehigh's 33-game home win streak as Princeton is the first team to win at Stabler Arena since the 2007-08 season. Rasheed scored 13 points and added 10 rebounds. She also led the team in steals with four and in assists with four. Rasheed finished the week with 27 points, 17 rebounds, seven steals and five assists.

She's Got It...Again

Niveen Rasheed earned her second Ivy League Player of the Week honor on Monday, Dec. 6. The sophomore led Princeton in scoring as the Tigers went 2-0 on the week and improve to 5-2 on the season. On Wednesday, Rasheed recorded a double-double against previously unbeaten Delaware. She scored 17 points and had a team-high 14 rebounds. She added four assists and three steals in the win. On Sunday, she scored a season-high 22 points in an 87-45 win over Rider. She shot 9-for-14 from the floor and hit all four of her free throws. She added two assists, one block and one steal. Rasheed did all of this in 20 minutes and was taken out of the game to allow her teammates time on the court.

It's All Good Part I

Junior Devona Allgood was named the Ivy League Player of the Week on Monday, Nov. 15. Allgood shares the honor with Harvard's Brogan Berry. Allgood led Princeton in scoring as the Tigers opened the season with a 78-37 win over Fairleigh Dickinson on Saturday, Nov. 13. The junior center scored 20 points, just one point shy of her career best. In addition she added seven rebounds, three blocks, three steals and one assist coming in 24 minutes of play.

Mad for Micir Part II

Addie Micir picked up three accolades on Monday, Nov. 29. She was named the Ivy League co-Player of the Week, the ECAC co-Player of the Week and the GoPrincetonTigers.com Athlete of the Week. She led Princeton to a 1-1 record at the Vanderbilt Tournament, stunning the USC and nearly knocking off No. 22/24 Vanderbilt. Micir scored both free throws with 5.0 seconds left to lift Princeton the 60-59 win over USC. She finished the game with 10 points, two rebounds, two assists and a steal against the Trojans, a team receiving votes in both national polls. The Tigers nearly defeated the Commodores, falling 74-68, after battling back from a 10-point deficit to take the lead in the second half. With 40 seconds to play Princeton has down by just three. Micir led the team in scoring with a season-high 20 points. She shot 6-for-13 from long range, matching her career best of six three-pointers in the game, but this time all six game in a single half. Micir added three rebounds, one assist, one block and one steal. Micir was named to the five-member All-Tournament team for the her efforts this weekend.

Regional Rewards

Addie Micir was named the ECAC co-Player of the Week on Monday, Nov. 29. She earned the award along with Georgetown's Sugar Rodgers. The award is presented weekly by the nation's largest athletic conference of 300 member institutions, selecting among conference's players of the week. Essentially, Micir and Rodgers were the best players in the region as the ECAC member schools range from Maine to North Carolina to Illinois. Micir finished her weekend at the Vanderbilt Tournament averaging 15 points, hitting eight three-pointers, six against Vanderbilt, and going 4-for-4 from the free throw line, in addition to five rebounds, three assists, two steals and a block.

Nash - What?

Princeton went 1-1 at the Vanderbilt Tournament during the Thanksgiving week. Senior Addie Micir scored both free throws with 5.0 seconds left to lift Princeton the 60-59 win over USC, a team at the time was receiving votes in both national polls. It marked the program's first ever win against a Pac-10 team. The Tigers faced the host school in the championship game. The Commodores, who are unbeaten in their 12-year history of their Thanksgiving Tournament, is the first ranked opponent Princeton has played this season. The Tigers nearly defeated the Commodores, falling 74-68, after battling back from a 10-point deficit to take the lead in the second half. With 40 seconds to play Princeton has down by just three.

Picking on the Pac-10

Princeton's 60-59 win over USC on Friday, Nov. 26 at the Vanderbilt Tournament marked the program's first win over a Pac-10 team. The Tigers are now 1-5 against the conference from the West Coast.

A+ Against the ACC

Princeton's win over Wake Forest on Dec. 31, marked the Tigers' first win over an ACC team since 1989. Princeton defeated North Carolina, 71-69 at Jadwin Gym during the Princeton Invitational in 1989. Princeton is now 3-13 against the ACC.

Notes from the Boss

After Dartmouth...

"We really stressed putting 40 good minutes together. I liked our push in transition and how well we shared the ball. Any road win in this league is a good one. Our bench had a great weekend. We knew with the loss of one, we'd need a little bit more from all 11 and it looks like we are getting that."

After Harvard...

"I thought we really came out flat, but adjusted well throughout the game and gave it a great fight. We got a lot from our bench tonight and we really needed it. We made Harvard make big shots late and they did that. We knew they had to protect their home floor and they did. You have to a short memory in this league as we have another one tomorrow night."

After Yale...

"We were totally out of rhythm in the first half. We knew defense was going to have to be our anchor until we settled into our looks. At halftime we regrouped and talked about keeping our poise while having patience attacking the rim. We knew it was going to be a battle, it's a road game and the second half of a back-to-back. It was a hard fought battle and we're thrilled to come out with a win."

After Brown...

"Any time you win in this league it's a good win, particularly when you win on the road. I was really pleased that we were able to get contributions from everyone. We will need everyone in this together the rest of the way, night after night."

After La Salle...

"It's great when we can get contributions from everyone. I can't say enough about what Addie means to our team. She is growing into a leader on the floor. One thousand points is a great accomplishment, but she has always cared about leaving the program in better shape than when she found it, and she's doing just that."

After Wake Forest...

"At the end of the Davidson game, I challenged these guys to really come together on the court. We knew that playing without Niveen that we would need more from everyone, and that's exactly what we got. It was an excellent team win."

After Davidson...

"After a slow start, which can be expected given our travel saga, I thought we adjusted well at halftime. We utilized a very balanced attack. I thought Devona played very well in the second half and Addie was the floor leader that we needed tonight."

After St. Joe's...

"It's disappointing that we had such a hard time stopping one player. We pride ourselves on the defensive end. Offensively we didn't have the poise that we expect at this point in the season. Lastly, we have to make free throws on the road. But I give all the credit to St. Joe's. They beat us. It's as simple as that."

After Drexel...

"We knew Drexel is a really good team, that is hard to guard. We had to deal with a lot of adversity throughout the game. The combination of our fight and poise is what got us this win."

On Rasheed fouling out after 16 minutes...

"This team is such a solid team, that when of their teammates goes, down they rally around. They lost one of their own and they knew they had to come together to battle the adversity and they did that."

After Lafayette...

"Against Navy we felt that we put together 20 solid minutes defensively, and we were determined to play 40 solid defensive minutes. When we get stops it allows us to generate our transition game, and we're hard to guard over 94 feet."

After Navy...

"Navy is a really good team. They are well coached, they play hard and they have a great point guard. In the first half, we weren't as sharp defensively as we've come to expect from this team. But in the second half, it was a whole different story. We had active hands, active feet and most importantly we talked to each other."

After Rider...

"We share the ball well on offense, all looking to be a threat. It's hard to guard when we push the pace over 94 feet. It's nice to be back home."

After Delaware...

"It's our third game in six days, so we knew we would have to dig deep. We needed to be better on the defensive end, to defend without fouling and finish with a block out so that we could push the pace offensively. This game showed us that we still have a lot of work to do."

After Vanderbilt...

"We use the month of November to find out who we can be. The way the team competes, the way they are willing to get better in practice and the way they are willing to make adjustments in game, has shown to be our foundation. We came here to win two and we made a top-25 team, in its home gym, make really big shots to beat us. So we just keep trying to get better."

Vanderbilt's Coach Balcomb after playing Princeton...

"They turned it up. I like to give the other team credit when credit is due. I think they're a very good team. I think they're extremely well coached. They beat USC for a reason. We didn't take them lightly and they were ready to play with a lot of confidence. We came out real strong with a lot of energy on our home court and then they made a run and they stepped it up. They played that way for the rest of the game and maintained it."

After USC...

"I've said it over and over again from the very beginning, I love the fight of this team. After the heartbreaker losing at the buzzer at Rutgers last week, I'm so proud that we were able to pull this one out. My team never stopped competing, they stayed composed and executed when we needed it most. We were a stop or a score away from beating Rutgers a week ago. This time we got what we needed. It was a gutsy performance and a total team win. I couldn't be prouder of them or happier for them."

First Month Figures

Princeton went 4-0 during the month of January, the second straight year the Tigers went undefeated in January. Princeton has gone undefeated in January four times in program history: 5-0 in 1998-99, 4-0 in 2005-06, 5-0 in 2009-10, 4-0 in 2010-11.

December Digits

Princeton finished the final month of the calendar year with a 7-1 record, the best record during the month of December in program history. Last year the Tigers went 6-1 which became a new best after a 7-2 mark in 1974.

November Numbers

Princeton finished off the month of November with a 3-2 record. Last season, Princeton set a program record for the most wins during the month of November, going 4-1.

Open Sesame

All-time Princeton is 19-21 in season openers including this season's 78-37 win over FDU. The Tigers have won the last three season openers, and is 6-4 in the last 10 years.

Open Sesame Part II

Princeton is 17-12 in Ivy League openers since the league started its current format in 1982. The Tigers have played the Quakers in 15 openers and is 11-4 in those openers. Princeton has won its last six Ivy openers, all against Penn.

Preseason Prediction

Princeton was selected to win the Ivy League again this season in the 2010 Ivy League Preseason Media/SID Poll. The Tigers were nearly the unanimous first-place selection with 135 points and 16 first-place votes. Harvard received one first-place vote and 115 points as the runner-up. Dartmouth was picked third with 96 points, followed by Yale with 84, Columbia with 73, Brown with 50, Cornell with 39 and Penn with 19.

O Captain! My Captain!

The team has selected its two seniors to be team captains this season. Krystal Hill and Addie Micir were announced as captains at the end-of-year banquet in the spring of 2010.

Hey Rookie

Coach Banghart and her staff have brought in three newcomers as the Class of 2014. Joining the Tigers are local forward Kristen Helmstetter (Bridgewater, N.J./Bridgewater-Raritan), and guards Nicole Hung (Los Angeles, Calif./Harvard Westlake) and Alex Rodgers (Mouth of Wilson, Va./Oak Hill Academy). HoopGurlz ranked both Hung and Rodgers. Below are their ranks below in comparison to Niveen Rasheed who was ranked last season.

Nicole Hung - Scouts Grade: 90 - Position Rank: 29
Alex Rodgers - Scouts Grade: 80 - Position Rank: 109

Niveen Rasheed - Scouts Grade: 90 - Position Rank: 20

We Are The Champions

Princeton won the Ivy League in 2009-10, the program's eighth title. The team won five times in the 1970 and 80s prior to the NCAA Tournament. The Tigers earned a share of the title in 1999 and 2006 but lost the playoff game both years to Dartmouth. It marks the first time Princeton won the title outright since 1978.

Can They Go All The Way?

Princeton went undefeated in the Ivy League last season becoming one of six teams to go undefeated in Ivy League play. Harvard did so in 2002-03 and 96-97 and Penn was undefeated in 2000-01. Dartmouth went 7-0 in 1980-81, Yale went 7-0 in 1979-80.

Going Dancing

Princeton made its first ever NCAA Tournament appearance in 2010. The team became a varsity sport in 1972 with the NCAA Tournament beginning a decade later in 1982. The Tigers fell to St. John's in the Tallahassee first round 65-47.

GAME #1 FDU 37 AT PRINCETON 78

PRINCETON, N.J. (11/13/10) - It was a banner night at Jadwin Gym for the Princeton women's basketball team as the Tigers defeated Fairleigh Dickinson 78-37 in the 2010-11 season opener.

Prior to the game the team unveiled its first NCAA Tournament banner after going 26-3 in 2009-10 and earning the Ivy League's automatic bid with a perfect 14-0 mark.

Princeton played all 13 members of the team with 12 players scoring. Three players were in double digits led by junior Devona Allgood's 20 points. She added seven rebounds, three blocks, three steals and one assist coming in 24 minutes of play. Sophomore Niveen Rasheed added 14 points, eight rebounds, four assists and one steal. Senior Addie Micir scored 12 points, hitting four three pointers and chipping in three assists, two steals and a rebound. Princeton shot 42.6 percent from the floor and missed just two of its 17 free throws.

Esther Wallace led the Knights with 13 points, while adding five rebounds and two blocks. Jasmrya Saunder had a team-best six rebounds and four steals while scoring five points. Mariyah Laury chipped in six points. As a team FDU shot 26 percent from the floor and 58.8 percent from the line.

The Tigers grabbed a 10-point lead, 19-9, at 12:48. During that time Allgood scored eight of those 19 points with Micir draining two of her four three pointers. Princeton continued to find the net scoring the next six points to make it 25-9 with a little more than nine minutes to play in the half.

The Knights were able to make it an 11-point game on three occasions including at the 1:55 mark of the first. However the Tigers would close out the first half on a 9-0 run to head into the locker room with a 39-20 lead.

Princeton's run wasn't over yet as the Tigers came out in the second and scored 17 straight points to go up 56-20 at 15:12.

A three-point basket by Alannah Driscoll-Sbar ended the drought for FDU at 12:58.

The Knights would only get within 30 points during the remainder of the game with came around the 10-minute mark. Back up by 36 points with 1:41 to play Princeton finished scoring the last seven points to wrap up the game 78-37.

Princeton will be on the road for the next five games first stopping off at Rutgers on Thursday, Nov. 18 for 7:30 p.m.

GAME #2 PRINCETON 53 AT RUTGERS 54

The banner of Hall-of-Fame coach Vivian Stringer looms over the court at the Lewis Brown Athletic Center, and the real-life version is still doing business on the home side bench. Clearly, this is not a place where visitors go home often with victories.

Two years ago to the day, after her team was a 48-point afterthought on this court, Courtney Banghart looked around and said that she'd back. She just didn't realize it would sting even more the second time around.

Khadijah Rushdan knocked down a jump shot with a 4.4 seconds left to give Rutgers a 54-53 win over Princeton in an early-season thriller in front of 2,518 at the RAC. Princeton rallied from 15 points back in the second half to take a lead down the stretch before Rushdan broke the Tigers' hearts.

The loss was Princeton's 14th straight to the Scarlet Knights, with the last Princeton win back in 1978. Rutgers improved to 104-16 in the last nine seasons at home.

Among those 104 wins was an 83-35 win over Princeton exactly two years ago.

That loss two years ago left Banghart at 8-24 in her young coaching career. Since then, she is 40-17, and her team is 22-2 since a 10-point loss to the Scarlet Knights a year ago, when she led Princeton to a 14-0 Ivy record and the first NCAA tournament bid in school history.

This year, Princeton came in off a 41-point win over FDU in its opener, while Rutgers lost to California by nine and No. 2 Stanford by 13 to open its season.

Rutgers led 35-22 at the half and 39-24 with 18 minutes to go before Princeton turned its game up on both ends. It took four minutes to get the lead under double digits and then just three more for Princeton to get its first lead at 42-41.

It would go back-and-forth from there with eight lead changes down the stretch, and Princeton would take a 53-52 lead on the seventh of those, when Lauren Edwards scored with 1:13 left.

The Tigers would get a stop after that, but the final sequence was set up when Niveen Rasheed's jumper hit the rim and bounded to the floor, where a mad scramble ensued. A held ball would have favored Princeton at that point, but the officials ruled that Chelsey Lee of Rutgers had possession and had called for a timeout before the ball was tied up.

As a result, the Knights had a chance to win the game, and Rushdan took full advantage, swishing a mid-range shot with 4.4 to play. Princeton was unable to get a shot off after that before the horn.

Rasheed led Princeton with 14 points and added seven rebounds, while Edwards and Addie Micir had 11 each. Devona Allgood had eight points and eight rebounds, and Kate Miller came off the bench to spark the comeback with seven points while drawing two key charges.

Rushdan led RU with 13. Rutgers shot 52% for the first half while making 4 of 5 three-pointers, but Princeton held the Knights to 23% shooting and 0 for 4 on three-pointers in the second half.

Princeton shot 32% in the first half and 45% in the second half, but the Tigers came away with 12 offensive rebounds and nine second-chance points after intermission.

Rutgers now leads the series with the Tigers either 15-1 or 15-3, depending on whether two early 1970s games against Douglases are counted. There is no disputing the current series streak, which now stands at 14 for the Scarlet Knights.

Of those 14 wins, six have been by at least 20 points and four have been by at least 40. The Scarlet Knights scored 110 against Princeton a year after the last Tiger win and 116 the year after that.

Those games - like the 48-point RU win two years ago - are just numbers in the record book now.

The one-point loss this time around stings, but it does show how far the Tigers have come in a short time.

GAME #3 PRINCETON 69 AT LEHIGH 52

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (11/21/10) - Lehigh's 33-game home winning streak is over. The Princeton women's basketball team delivered the Mountain Hawks their first loss at Stabler Arena since the 2007-08 season with a 69-52 game.

Four players were in double digits, led by sophomore Niveen Rasheed's first double-double of the season with 13 points and 10 rebounds. She added four steals and four assists. Juniors Devona Allgood and Laura Johnson and senior Addie Micir had 12 points apiece. Allgood added six rebounds, four steals, three assists and two blocks. Sophomore Lauren Polansky chipped in six rebounds, two steals and two points, junior Lauren Edwards had nine points, six rebounds and three assists.

Princeton took a seven-point lead 9-2 five minutes into the game, but an 8-0 Lehigh run over the next two minutes gave the Mountain Hawks a one-point lead, 10-9.

The teams would exchange leads five times over the next six minutes before a Laura Johnson three-pointer at 7:31 gave Princeton a two-point lead it wouldn't relinquish, sending the Tigers on a 20-5 run over the next five minutes.

Down by 14, 38-24, Lehigh would shoot 4-for-4 from the line and wasn't allowed a field goal for the final 3:41, to close out the half with a 10-point deficit on its home court.

The Tigers continued to build on their lead with freshman Nicole Hung giving Princeton a 20-point edge on a jumper at 7:34. Lehigh went on an 8-0 run over the next 1:23 to get within 14, 61-47, which just under six minutes to play. It would be as close as the Mountain Hawks would get as Princeton would close out the half on an 8-5 run for the 69-52 final score.

Of Lehigh's nine baskets from the field in the second half, five were three-pointers.

The Hun School product Emily Gratch paced the Mountain Hawks with 14 points, shooting a perfect 5-for-5 from the field. She added three steals and three blocks. Leading scorer Erica Prosser added 11 points, five rebounds and a team-high seven assists. Leading the team under the basket was Courtney Dentler who pulled down seven boards, while adding seven points and a team-best three blocks. Lehigh shot 41.3 percent from the floor (19-46), 60 percent from the line and 36.4 percent from behind the arc.

Princeton shot 43.3 percent from the floor (29-67), 50 percent from long range and 44.4 percent from the free-throw line. The Tigers outrebounded the opponent 43-28.

The Tigers improve to 2-1 on the season and will play in the Vanderbilt Tournament over Thanksgiving break to continue their five-game road swing. First up Princeton will meet with USC on Friday, Nov. 26 at 7 p.m.

GAME #4

USC 59 vs. PRINCETON 60

NASHVILLE (11/26/10) - With her team up 59-58, USC's Cassie Harbets fouled the wrong Princeton basketball player - the team's best free-throw shooter, senior captain Addie Micir. Micir hit both of her free throws with five seconds left to give the Tigers a 60-59 victory over the Trojans on Friday, Nov. 26 at Memorial Gymnasium in the second game of the Vanderbilt Tournament.

USC would fumble down the court due to high pressure from guard Laura Johnson and didn't have enough time to get a decent shot off as Princeton celebrated on the opposite end of the court.

Princeton will play in the championship game against the host school Vanderbilt on Sunday, Nov. 28 at 2 p.m. The game will be webstreamed, with live audio and live stats available. Check back tomorrow for links as well as video footage of the win.

It was a back and forth affair in the first half. The lead changed hands six times and was tied four times. USC scored first but Princeton would take it's first lead on a Niveen Rasheed three-point play at 15:38, 5-4.

USC would regain the lead on a pair of free throws by Christina Marinacci and would go up by four, 11-7, before Princeton battled back to take the lead 14-13 when Rasheed stole the ball and ran down the court for a jumper in the lane.

USC scored the next five points, 18-14, but Princeton answered with seven straight with Rasheed scoring twice and Micir draining a three, to give the Tigers their largest lead of the half, 21-18.

The Trojans went on a 14-3 over the next 5:16 to take the 32-24 lead with 2:35 to play. Sophomore center Meg Bowen added two baskets to inch Princeton within four to head into the locker room with a 32-28 score.

At the end of the half both teams had committed eight turnovers, but it was the Tigers that capitalized getting 10 points off of them compared to USC's six.

The Women of Troy started the second half on a 9-5 run to regain an eight-point lead, 41-33 at 15:59. Rasheed scored the game's next six points, going 4-for-4 from the free-throw line and adding a jumper to make it a two-point game, 41-39 at 13:48. A pair of free throws by Harbets ended Rasheed's run but Bowen drew a charge on a jumper in the paint and made good on the three-point play to make it a one-point game, 43-42 with 11 minutes to play.

Ashley Corral and Marinacci teamed up to score the next six points to make it a 49-42 game. A free-throw by Lauren Edwards, followed by a basket by Rasheed after getting the offensive rebound on Edward's second free throw, and a basket in the paint by Allgood put Princeton back within two with seven minutes left.

A minute later the Tigers remained down by two, 53-51, before Marinacci and Harbets added four points. Princeton's Allgood responded going 2-for-2 and adding a basket to make it a 57-55 game with a little more than three minutes left.

Harbets followed with a basket before Edwards earned a steal and raced down the court for a layup. Harbets fouled Rasheed, who made the back end of the two shots to get Princeton within one with 1:08 to play.

The Trojans missed two three-pointers with Edwards getting the second rebound to give Princeton possession with 26 seconds. Bringing the ball down the court, Rasheed drove to the basket but missed the shot with Kari LaPlante getting the defensive rebound and a chance at two baskets as Rasheed was called for the foul.

LaPlante missed both shots and Johnson got the defensive board with 14 seconds to play.

Key to Princeton's success in the second half was its rebounding. USC had a 25-17 edge in boards in the first half, the most rebounds the Tigers have allowed in a half this season. The Tigers outboarded the Trojans 28-20 in the second half. Princeton also got 12 points on second-chance opportunities.

Allgood recorded her first double-double of the season with 12 points and 11 rebounds. Rasheed led the team in scoring with 18 points and had six rebounds, three assists and two steals. Edwards added seven points and 10 rebounds, while Micir contributed 10 points. As a team Princeton shot 32.8 percent from the floor, 80 percent from the line and 26.7 percent from long range.

GAME #5

PRINCETON 68 AT VANDERBILT 74

NASHVILLE (11/28/10) - The Princeton women's basketball team gave No. 22/24 Vanderbilt a game all the way to the end, but it was the Commodores who earned the 74-68 win in the championship game of the Vanderbilt Tournament on Sunday, Nov. 28 at Memorial Gym.

Down by as much as nine, Princeton battled its way back to take the lead midway through the second and continued to answer any scoring runs against the first ranked opponent it has played this season. Down by 10 with less than three minutes to play Princeton made it a three-point game and challenged for the win until the very end.

Poor shooting put Princeton in an early deficit, down by nine, 14-5 at 12:17. The Tigers shot 2-for-10 up until that point while the Commodores were shooting 6-for-9 and had eight rebounds to Princeton's three.

Sophomore Kate Miller seemed to spark Princeton's defensive effort when she grabbed a steal and went down for a fast-break layup and was fouled for a three-point play to get within six, 14-8.

Following the effort the Tigers started to explode defensively. Junior Laura Johnson got a block, sophomore Lauren Polansky forced a jump ball and senior Kristal Hill grabbed a steal. With that the Tigers started to chip away at the score. Princeton went on a 10-5 run over the next 4:15, to make it a three-point game, 23-20 with 4:42 to play.

Stephanie Holzer would hit two free throws before Edwards washed away those two points with a layup. Sophomore Niveen Rasheed would hit a jumper with help from sophomore Meg Bowen at 2:27 to make it a one-point game, 25-24.

During the next 2:27 Princeton had a number of chances to take the lead, but shot 0-for-3. Princeton also didn't allow Vandy to expand on its lead holding it to 0-for-4 shooting. Holzer would shoot a long ball for two at the buzzer to give the 'Dores a 29-26 lead headed into the locker room.

Hannah Tuomi and Jence Rhoads added to Vanderbilt's lead with buckets to start the second, 33-26. The teams then traded threes, with senior Addie Micir draining both for Princeton. Rasheed would have a three-point play at 16:16 to get Princeton back within four, 39-35.

Two minutes later Princeton remained down by four points before Tiffany Clarke hit a jumper to put the 'Dores ahead by six, 43-47.

Micir sank her third three-pointer of the half and Rasheed followed up with a basket in the paint to put the Tigers back within one, 43-32 with 13 minutes to play, forcing Vanderbilt to call a timeout. Rasheed would put back a backdoor pass from Miller at 11:59 to give Princeton its first lead of the game, 44-43.

Vanderbilt went on a 10-0 run for the next 2:18 with Tuomi scoring six of those 10 points to make it a 53-44 game.

Princeton held strong and responded with an 11-4 run. Micir would hit her fourth three, and Bowen and Rasheed would each score four points to bring the game back to two, 57-55 with 5:47 to play.

Vanderbilt regained a 10-point lead, 67-57 at 2:57 thanks to a 10-2 run. Princeton never gave up answering with an 8-1 run to make it a three-point game, 68-65 with 1:20 on the clock.

With 40 seconds left, Vanderbilt held the three-point lead, 71-68. A free throw by Rhoads made it a two-possession game with 30 seconds to play. Getting the rebound on a missed free throw by Rhoads, Princeton ran down the court and desperately tried to get a basket, shooting 0-for-3 in the next 20 seconds. Allgood would foul Holzer with eight ticks on the clock to try to get Princeton the ball back. Holzer made both of her shots but Princeton turned the ball over with four seconds left and the clock ran out.

Micir was named to the All-Tournament team for her efforts this weekend. Today she matched her career best with six three-point baskets en route to scoring a season-high 20 points. Rasheed added 15 points, six rebounds and four assists, while Edwards contributed 14 points and six rebounds. The Tigers shot 44.6 percent from the floor, 47.1 percent from long range and missed just on their 11 free throws.

GAME #6

PRINCETON 68 AT DELAWARE 50

NEWARK, Del. (12/11/10) - When the Princeton women's basketball team arrived at the Carpenter Center the game plan on defending unbeaten Delaware changed. Star player Elena Delle Donne was not dressed for the game. The change in game plan didn't faze the Tigers as the ended Delaware's five-game win streak with a 68-50 win.

An illness would keep Delle Donne, a player that scores 41 percent of her team's points averaging 27.4 points per game, on the bench. Sarah Acker would start in her place but couldn't be the offensive threat the team needed.

The Tigers grabbed a six-point lead, 10-4, four minutes into the game before Delaware went on a run. The Blue Hens held the Tigers scoreless for the next five minutes as they scored 10 points to take the 14-10 lead at 12:25.

Addie Micir hit back-to-back threes to regain the lead for Princeton and Niveen Rasheed gave the Tigers the 18-14 lead.

Delaware scored the next three points to make it a one-point game, 18-17, but it would be as close as the Blue Hens would get as the Tigers went on a 15-0 run over that stretch from the final seven minute of the first half and into the second half to take a 33-17 lead.

The Blue Hens would use a number of substitutes in the first half to try to find the right combination but couldn't stop the sharp-shooting Tigers.

The Blue Hens would only get as close as 11 in the second half, as Princeton pushed its lead by as much as 24.

With the wide gap, Princeton was able to get all of its dressed players into the game with each putting in considerable minutes.

Micir hit a career-best six three-pointers for the second straight game, missing just one of her seven shots from behind the arc. She shot 6-for-8 overall to lead the team in scoring with 18 points.

Rasheed earned a double-double with 17 points and a team-high 14 rebounds. She added four assists and three steals. Junior Devona Allgood was also in double digits with 13 points, while sophomore Meg Bowen finished the game with a career-high seven rebounds.

Princeton shot 41.1 percent from the floor, 47.4 percent from long range and 65 percent from the line, paced by Rasheed shooting 7-for-8.

The Tigers who entered the game ranked No. 5 in the mid-major poll, outrebounced the Blue Hens, ranked No. 10 in the same poll, 41-35.

Danielle Parker led Delaware with a double-double of 14 points and 11 rebounds. Vanessa Kabongo had 12 points and a team-best three assists. Kelsey Buchanan added eight rebounds for the Blue Hens. Delaware shot 36.7 percent from the field, 52 percent from the line and 16.7 percent from long range, making just one of its six threes'.

GAME #7 RIDER 45 AT PRINCETON 87

PRINCETON, N.J. (12/5/10) - Sophomore Niveen Rasheed scored a season-high 22 points to lead the Princeton women's basketball team to an 87-45 win over Rider on Sunday, Dec. 5.

All 13 players got in the game for the Tigers with the bench contributing 36 of the team's 87 points. Princeton shot 11-for-11 from the free-throw line and 53.5 percent from long range, hitting eight three's. Overall the Tigers shot 48.6 percent, in their first home game since the season opener, nearly a month ago.

Rider shot 29.5 percent overall and was 75 percent from the line. The squad was 0-for-8 from behind the arc.

Caitlin Bopp, Rider's leading scorer found herself in foul trouble early, picking up her second foul at 15:49 and her third with 2:31 to play in the first half. She would finish the game with just six points. MyNesha McKenzie and Sarah Homan both had nine points to lead the Broncos offensively. McKenzie also had nine rebounds to lead the team on the glass.

Princeton grabbed an 8-0 lead to start the game, prompting Rider to call a timeout. Bopp gave her team its first basket at 16:43 before Princeton's Lauren Polansky drained a three. The teams would trade baskets to make it 15-6 at 13:46 before Princeton went on a 9-3 run to take a 17-point lead, 28-11, with 7:11 remaining. Five minutes later a three pointer by Nicole Hung gave Princeton a 22-point lead. Rider had a 5-0 run over the next two minutes, but another three by Hung at 1:28 pushed the Tigers out ahead by 20+ points once again. Princeton would take a 20-point lead, 42-22, into the locker room.

The Tigers were unstopable in the second half, opening up with a 12-0 run to make it a 54-22 game at 16:06.

A basket by Alicia Hall at 14:13 brought her team within 30 but it would be as close as it would get as Princeton pushed its lead to as much as 42 to end the game, 87-45.

Junior post Devona Allgood was second on the team in scoring with 12 points, while adding seven rebounds. Junior guard Laura Johnson had 10 points, five rebounds, two steals, two assists and one block. Junior forward Lauren Edwards led the team under the basket with eight rebounds, while freshman guard Alex Rodgers had six.

As a team Princeton had 21 assists on 34 baskets, to go along with nine steals and six blocks. The Tigers had 49 rebounds to Rider's 33.

GAME #8 NAVY 61 AT PRINCETON 74

PRINCETON, N.J. (12/10/10) - The Princeton women's basketball team shot 61.5 percent in the first half, but led Navy by just three at halftime. It was only a matter of time before the Tigers would start to pull away and a strong defensive showing in the second half led to a 74-61 victory.

Coincidentally, the last time Princeton shot that well in a half was November 2009 when the Tigers earned a 77-45 win over another Patriot League team, American. Despite the sharp shooting, Princeton struggled defensively against Navy, as the Mids hit six three-pointers in the first half and was 57.7 percent from the floor overall.

Princeton would hold Navy to 28.1 percent (9-for-32) shooting in the second half and gave up just one three-pointer.

Princeton jumped out to a 10-4 lead three minutes into the game and reached a nine-point advantage at 12:44. Navy went on a 7-0 run to make it a two-point game on a three-pointer by Cassie Consedine at 8:39.

Two minutes later Princeton had a 29-24 lead before Navy went on a 10-2 run to turn the tide and give the Mids a 34-31 lead with 3:01 to play in the first half.

A pair of free throws by Niveen Rasheed put Princeton back within one, 34-33. On the other end Angela Myers shot 1-for-2 from the line. Rasheed would get the rebound on the missed opportunity and ran down for a layup to tie the game 35-35 at 2:14.

Devona Allgood would score back-to-back buckets and Lauren Edwards had a fast break basket to give Princeton a 41-35 lead. Myers would drain her third three of the half at the buzzer to set the halftime score at 41-38.

A basket by Consedine started the second half and made it a 41-40 game, but Rasheed scored two from the line and Edwards added a layup to give Princeton a 45-40 lead. The teams would trade baskets over the next five minutes to make it 49-44.

A layup by Audrey Bauer at 14:38 would be Navy's last basket for the next 8:41, as Princeton held Navy scoreless from the field and took off. The Tigers went on a 16-2 run to build a 17-point lead, 65-48.

Consedine ended the drought for the Mids at 5:52 but the Tigers continued to attack to go ahead by as much as 20 on a three by Krystal Hill at 2:15.

Navy would answer back with a three, and Alix Membreno would score the game's last four points.

Myers led Navy with 21 points and eight rebounds. She dished out four assists and had two steals. Consedine added 14 points and Membreno had 11 off the bench and earned six rebounds. Jade Geif would finish with eight points and seven boards. Navy concluded the game shooting 41.4 percent overall, 60 percent from the line and 38.9 percent from long range.

Pacing the Tigers was Rasheed with 21 points, six rebounds, four steals and four assists. Allgood was also in double figures with 14 points and led the team on the glass with eight rebounds. Edwards chipped in 13 points, four rebounds and three assists. Senior Addie Micir and Hill would each contribute nine points. The Tigers shot a clip of 52.6 percent, shot 45.5 percent from behind the arc and was 9-for-12 from the free-throw line.

Navy falls to 5-5 overall, while Princeton improves to 6-2 overall and extends its home win streak to 12.

GAME #9 LAFAYETTE 58 AT PRINCETON 90

PRINCETON, N.J. (12/13/10) - Sophomore Niveen Rasheed scored a career-high 28 points, scoring 22 in the first half alone to lead the Princeton women's basketball team to a 90-58 win over Lafayette on Monday, Dec. 13.

Rasheed's 28 points is the most points scored in a game since Becky Brown had 28 against Penn on Jan. 7, 2006. In addition, her 22 first-half points is the most since Meagan Cowher had 22 in the first half against Columbia on Jan. 13, 2006.

It was the second straight game that the Tigers shot over 50 percent, as Princeton shot 53.6 percent from the field. Rasheed herself shot 11-for-15.

A third of Princeton's points came from the bench, while more than a third came off of Lafayette turnovers, 39 in fact.

In the first half, Lafayette had 11 of its 27 points come via free throws, as the Leopards went 11-for-13 from the line. The sharp free-throw shooting was clutch as Princeton held Lafayette scoreless from the field for more than seven minutes. The Leopards would hit seven free throws during that span.

Princeton began the game on a 17-2 run, with junior Devona Allgood scoring eight of those 17 points. Lafayette was able to cut the lead back to nine, on a 10-4 run at 10:30.

Sophomore Kate Miller and Allgood each scored to take a 13-point lead, 25-12. After Lauren Jackson's layup at 8:35, the Leopards would go cold on the court, not getting another bucket until 1:27. During that span Princeton would go on a 20-9 run with Rasheed scoring nine straight points for the Tigers who held a 47-25.

Rasheed wasn't done yet as she closed out the half scoring five more points to give the Tigers a 52-27 lead at halftime.

The Tigers continued to expand on their lead, taking their largest lead at 11:20, a 38-point advantage.

Allgood finished the night with 14 points, six rebounds, three steals, one block and one assists. Junior Lauren Edwards added 10 points. Sophomore Lauren Polansky led the team in steals and assists with six apiece, while scoring two and pulling down five boards. Senior Krystal Hill scored seven points and pulled off the prettiest play on Carrill Court, with a trick behind the back bounce pass to Rasheed for a lay-in.

Princeton had a 33-29 rebounding advantage, holding the Leopards to just seven offensive boards, all of which came in the second half.

LaKeisha Wright paced the Leopards with 15 points, while Danielle Fiacco had 10 points and led the team on the glass with eight rebounds. Elizabeth Virgin also contributed 10 points, while Lauren Jackson had nine. Overall, Lafayette shot 42.9 percent, 79.2 percent from the free-throw line and 30 percent from long range. The Leopards drop to 5-6 on the season while Princeton

GAME #10 DREXEL 64 AT PRINCETON 52

PRINCETON, N.J. (12/17/10) - Trailing for the first time at home this season, the Princeton women's basketball team rallied to defeat Drexel 64-52 on Friday, Dec. 17 at Jadwin Gym. The win extends the Tigers win streak at home to 13, as Princeton completes 2010 with a perfect home court record.

Drexel held Princeton scoreless for 10:58, had four-point lead and forced Princeton's top player Niveen Rasheed into five fouls after playing 16 minutes. All had the workings of an upset. However, the Tigers rallied and found what they had to do to win.

Drexel had five turnovers in the first five minutes giving Princeton a 10-5 lead by the first media timeout at 14:31. Sharp three-point shooting by Jasmina Rosseel during a Drexel 10-4 run would help her team the lead.

The Tigers scored the next 10 points and made it a nine-point game, 24-15, at 8:12. However, a three by junior Laura Johnson at 9:21 would be Princeton's final basket from the field until 18:23 of the second half. Scoreless for 10:58, Princeton shot 0-for-11 during that stretch, while Drexel would score 10 points to take a 25-24 lead into the locker room.

Four minutes into the second half, Drexel reached its largest lead of the game, a four-point differential and had forced Rasheed into her third and fourth fouls and she took a seat on the bench.

The teams would trade buckets as Princeton couldn't yet find who would be its offensive spark. Hoping it would be Rasheed, she went back into the game and 10 seconds later would hit two free throws at 12:56 to get Princeton within one 33-32. Forty seconds later, Rasheed would foul out of the game, her first career disqualification.

That seemed to be the ignite the Princeton squad as the Tigers would take the lead three minutes later and wouldn't let go.

After Kamile Nacikaita drained a three, Princeton attacked and went on an 8-0. A three-pointer by Edwards at 9:07 would give the Tigers back the lead and Micir would drop in a jumper to make it a 40-35 with 8:25 left on the clock.

Drexel would score a string of free throws, five in fact, to tie the game up 40-40 at 6:32.

Devona Allgood and Edwards would each score points in the paint to help Princeton go up by four, 44-40 with a little more than five minutes left.

Nacikaita would go 2-for-2 from the line to get the Dragons within two, but it would be as close as they would get in the final minutes.

Micir and Edwards scored back-to-back three-pointers to make it an eight-point game. Another string of Drexel free throws, made it a four-point game, before Princeton went on a 8-2 run over the next three minutes to take its largest lead of the game, 58-48 with 53 seconds remaining on the clock.

Micir would go to the line six times in the final 45 seconds, as the Dragons purposefully fouled her twice to get possession. Entering the game shooting 100 percent from the foul line, Micir went 6-for-6 from the line to give the Tigers the 64-52 win.

Edwards had 17 points, five rebounds, five assists, two blocks and one steal. Micir was the leading scorer for Princeton with 18 points and had a team-high six rebounds. Allgood would also grab six boards and had 12 points. Princeton shot 44 percent from the field, 80 percent from the free-throw line and 44.4 percent from long range.

Nacikaita paced the Dragons with a double-double of 17 points and 10 rebounds. Rosseel had 11 points, four rebounds and two assists. The Dragons, who played just seven players, shot 35.6 percent overall, 40 percent from long range and 77.8 percent from the foul line.

Drexel falls to 6-2 on the season, while Princeton improves to 8-2.

Princeton will be back in action on Sunday, Dec. 19 when it travels to Philadelphia to take on St. Joseph's at 2 p.m.

GAME #11 PRINCETON 61 AT ST. JOE'S 70

PRINCETON, N.J. (12/17/10) - St. Joseph's snapped Princeton's five-game win streak as Michelle Baker scored a career-high 28 points to lead her team to a 70-61 double-overtime victory over Princeton in women's basketball on Sunday, Dec. 19 at Hagan Arena.

The story of the game was free throws. It's what won the game for the Hawks and what kept the Tigers from earning their ninth win of the season. Princeton shot 5 for 13 (38.5 percent) from the line, going 3 for 10 during regulation. Normally, the Tigers are a sharp free-throw shooting team, the second in the league at 76.3 percent. St. Joe's would score the game's last eight points from the foul line, shooting 8 for 8 to win the game.

St. Joseph's would hold the lead for nearly the entire first half with Princeton finally getting the go-ahead with 19 seconds to play, 26-24, on a basket by Lauren Edwards.

St. Joe's grabbed a 6-2 lead to start the game, getting all six points off of turnovers. Princeton committed five in the first five minutes. The Hawks continued to expand their lead working their way to a 10-point edge, 19-9 at 9:01. Baker led the way, scoring five of St. Joseph's 11.

A basket by Edwards sparked an 8-0 run by the Tigers. Kate Miller hit a three from the top of the key and Edwards would drain one from the left wing to get her team within two, 19-17 at 6:43.

Erin Shields hit a three-pointer for the Hawks before Devona Allgood scored her first of the game with a hook shot. Katie Kuester answered with a jumper to keep St. Joseph's ahead by five, 24-19 with 5:20 to play.

A steal by Edwards was converted into a three by Laura Johnson, and a steal and fast break by Niveen Rasheed resulted in her own basket to tie the game at 24 with 1:47 on the clock.

On the next run down the court, Rasheed blocked Ashley Primm's shot to get the Tigers possession and Edwards would hit a jumper to give Princeton its first lead since 19:01, 26-24, with 19 seconds to play.

Baker would sink her fourth basket to start the second half, to tie the game at 26, but Princeton would work its way up to a 10-point lead at 11:54 on a 14-4 run, with Micir scoring two from behind the arc during that time.

The lead would quickly be diminished as the Hawks answered with a 12-3 run to make it a one-point game, 43-42 with a little less than five minutes to play. Baker would score seven of her team's 12 points during the run.

Edwards tried to keep the lead strong with a jumper before the team's traded baskets.

Two fouls on Princeton led to St. Joe's getting the lead back for the first time since the first half, as Baker and Primm both shot 2-for-2 from the line to take a 48-47 lead.

Allgood would add a basket to retake a one-point lead and Rasheed would hit two free throws for a 51-48 lead with 1:03 to play. Baker wouldn't go away converting a three-point play to even the game with 51 seconds left.

Rasheed was fouled with 32.1 seconds left by Cavallo but Rasheed couldn't convert on the basket and St. Joe's got the defensive board to hang on for the last shot. The shot was long and Rasheed got the rebound and launched the ball from three-quarter court to send the game into overtime.

Rasheed and Micir gave Princeton a four-point lead in the first overtime, but the Hawks answered with two to tie it. With 15 seconds left, Micir took a shot that was partially blocked and a rebound was picked up by Kuester, who clearly didn't know how much time was on the clock as she launched a ball from midcourt that hit the rim for overtime two.

Tied 59-59 with 3:20 to play in the second overtime, Kuester hit two free throws to give the Hawks a 1-59 lead. A minute later one of the strangest things occurred. Allgood picked up her fifth foul on a shot by Prim. The officials sent Kuester to the line and she made one, before the officials realized it should be Prim shooting. After a discussion with both coaches and each other, the officials took the point off and gave Prim two shots. She made the first, missed the second. Rasheed got the defensive board and ran down to score to make it 62-61 game. For the final 1:13 the only points scored would be the eight from the St. Joe's foul line, as the Hawks improve to 49-1 over Ivy League teams.

Rasheed had a double-double with 18 points and 11 rebounds, as well as four assists, three steals and one block. Edwards had 15 points on 7-for-9 shooting and six rebounds. Allgood added 10 points and eight boards. Polansky led the team in assists with five. Princeton shot 35.2 (25-71) percent from the floor, 30 percent from three-point range.

Baker added seven rebounds, four assists in addition to her 29 points. Kuester had 11 points and Van Grinsven has 10 points and seven rebounds. Kelly Cavallo led the team on the glass with nine rebounds. The Hawks shot 43.1 (25-58) percent from the floor, 78.3 (18-23) percent from the foul line and 18.2 (2-11) percent from long range.

The Hawks move to 7-3 on the season, while the Tigers fall to 8-3 playing their first OT game since 2008. Princeton is now 7-10 when going into extra time.

GAME #12 PRINCETON 67 AT DAVIDSON 61

DAVIDSON, N.C. (12/29/10) - A well-balanced attack gave the Princeton women's basketball team a 67-61 win over Davidson on Wednesday, Dec. 29 at Belk Arena, in the Tigers' first game back in 10 days.

Dubbed the hometown hero of Huntersville, junior Devona Allgood scored 15 points and led the team on the glass with eight rebounds and two blocks. Senior Addie Micir paced the Tigers offensively with 16 points, seven rebounds and four assists. Sophomore Niveen Rasheed added 13 points, five rebounds, five steals and two assists. Junior Lauren Edwards was also in double digits with 11 points, seven boards, three assists, and a block and a steal apiece.

Princeton rebounded Davidson 39-30 and did a great job shooting the ball from the outside, shooting 46.2 percent against a team that holds opponents to 24 percent from long range. The Tigers also sent the Wildcats to line only five times in 40 minutes.

The travel saga began with a slew of players getting derailed on flights back into New Jersey, due to the snowstorm that hit the Northeast, the final player arriving at 2 a.m., on Tuesday morning. After a cancelled flight out of Newark, Princeton made the 10-hour drive to Huntersville, N.C. on Tuesday, leaving Jadwin Gym at 9:30 a.m., and arriving at 7:30 p.m.

Davidson grabbed a four-point lead to start the game getting all four points off of Princeton turnovers.

The Tigers responded with a 7-0 run to take the 7-4 lead, but Ashley Lax drained a three to tie the game at 15:38.

It would be the Wildcats last bucket from the field as the Tigers held them scoreless for 6:27 while expanding their lead to eight, 16-8. During that first 11:08, Princeton dominated the glass with 12 boards to Davidson's three.

The Wildcats, however, would answer with their own 11-2 run to take a one-point lead, 19-18, with 3:59 remaining in the half.

Princeton would shoot 0-for-7 during that span before sophomore Megan Bowen ended the drought with a layup at 3:40 and gave the Tigers back the one-point lead.

The teams would exchange leads with 6-4 Lithuanian Sophia Aleksandravicius giving her team the one-point go ahead at 3:29 before Rasheed put Princeton back ahead by one 20 seconds later. Senior Krystal Hill layed the ball in to give Princeton a 24-21 lead at 1:21 but Barbara Sittion hit a jumper on the other end to make it a one-point game once again with less than a minute to play.

Micir would hit the back end of two free throws, and finished the game 7-for-8 from the line, to give the Tigers the two-point lead headed into the locker room.

Allgood and Rasheed would combine for nine points to start the second half, which gave Princeton a 34-28 lead and a long ball from junior Laura Johnson gave the Tigers a nine-point advantage at 15:33.

Seconds later Rasheed would suffer a knee injury and was forced to leave the game, leaving the rest up to her fellow Tigers.

Aleksandravicius would hit back-to-back baskets before Princeton went on a 9-0 run to take a 14-point lead, 46-32 midway through the second stanza.

A layup in transition by Allgood gave Princeton its largest lead, a 15-point advantage, 51-36, at 8:52.

The Wildcats would hold the Tigers scoreless from the field once again and had a 10-3 run to make it a seven-point game with a little more than six minutes to play.

Two minutes later it was a four-point game, 57-53.

Edwards dropped in a jumper and Micir drained a three to give the Tigers back up by nine, 62-53 with 1:34 on the clock. Sheeeka Carter made it a two-possession game with a long ball of her own, and the teams traded free throws to keep Princeton out in front by six, 64-58, with 24 ticks remaining.

Davidson would foul, and Princeton would make three more free throws to take a 67-58 lead.

At the buzzer, Lax would hit a three to settle the score 67-61.

Aleksandravicius finished the game with 19 points, five rebounds all of which came on the defensive end, five blocks and five steals. Lax earned 14 points, four rebounds and two steals. Jasmine Calin and Center both added eight points. The Wildcats shot 41.1 percent (23-56) overall, was 33.3 percent from behind the arc and was 60 percent from the foul line.

The Tigers shot 44.6 percent (25-56) from the field, shot 46.2 percent from behind the arc and 85.7 percent from the free-throw line.

GAME #13 PRINCETON 71 AT WAKE FOREST 63

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (12/31/10) - Junior Lauren Edwards scored a season-high 21 points and matched her career-best of four three pointers in a game, to lead the Princeton women's basketball team to a 71-63 win over Wake Forest on New Year's Eve day at Joel Coliseum.

It marks Princeton first win over an ACC team since 1989 when the Tigers defeated North Carolina.

Senior Addie Micir added 15 points, and is now three away from 1,000 career points. Micir led the team on the glass with six rebounds, and had a team-best five assists. She also led the team in assists with five and had two steals. Junior Laura Johnson and sophomore Meg Bowen each added nine points.

Princeton had a different lineup for the second straight game, as the Tigers were without the league's leading scorer Niveen Rasheed. Rasheed suffered a knee injury in the Davidson game and will be evaluated by Princeton doctors upon return to the Garden State.

Wake Forest doubled the post, limiting points for center Devona Allgood and her fellow Tigers in the paint, however it left the wings wide open for three-point opportunities. Princeton shot 50 percent from long range (11-22), sinking nine in the first half. Allgood would pick up eight points and would get into foul trouble early in the second half.

The lead would change hands five hands in the first four minutes of the game. The Demon Deacons would go on a 6-0 run in a span of 1:35 to take a 10-5 lead at 14:14. The Tigers responded with their own 6-0 run to regain the lead, 11-10, on a three from sophomore Kate Miller at the top of the key, the Tigers' third of the half.

A three by Brittany Waters put Wake Forest back up by two but an old-fashioned three-point play by Bowen put Princeton back on top by one, 14-13 at 10:40.

Wake capitalized on Princeton turnovers getting 10 of 13 points off of the Tigers' eight turnovers midway through the first half.

Princeton would work its way up to a nine-point lead, 26-17, with Edwards, Johnson and Lauren Polansky all draining buckets from long range - Edwards getting two with a little more than five to play in the half.

A minute later Micir made it a 10-point game after getting fouled by Brooke Thomas taking a three, and making all three from the foul line.

The Deacons would cut the lead back to three, 29-26, with 2:20 to play, getting all three baskets off of Princeton turnovers at midcourt.

Princeton would respond on an 8-1 run, with Edwards hitting two more threes and Bowen knocking in a layup to take a 10-point edge once again, 37-27 with 33 seconds left.

Jaymee Carnes would drill a three from the top of the key with 24 seconds to play to make it a seven-point game, 37-30 at halftime.

Despite the 16 turnovers in the first half, Princeton shot 60 percent (12-20) and was 9-for-13 from long range, and 4-for-4 from the line.

Wake Forest started the second half on a 6-2 run to cut the lead back to three, 39-36. Bowen kept the Tigers in the game getting two in the paint to keep Princeton in the lead by five. A three by Micir pushed the lead back out to eight, 46-38 at 16:18.

The Deacons would take the lead, 49-48, at 10:42 on a 9-0 run, with Waters scoring the first five points.

Princeton couldn't get it going on offense, shooting 1-for-7 from behind the arc to this point in the second half.

Allgood would end Princeton's nearly six-minute scoring drought with a layup at 9:21, and Johnson would follow up with her third long ball of the afternoon, matching her season best from outside the circle to give Princeton a 53-49 edge.

Six minutes later, at 3:27, the Tigers retained the four-point lead. It would be a free-throw clinic the remainder of the game. Princeton collected the next four points to take back the eight-point game, 62-54. Micir would get the Tigers back out ahead hitting four straight free throws, to make it a 68-58 game with 28 seconds to play. Sicily Ray would hit a jumper to make it 68-60 with 20 ticks left, and the Tigers would keep that lead to end the game, 71-63.

The Deacons were led by Brittany Waters who had 11 points on the afternoon, while Asia Williams recorded a double-double with 10 points and 12 rebounds. Mykala Walker, Brooke Thomas had 10 points apiece. Thomas would lead her team in assists, dishing out five, and had the lone block on the team. Wake Forest shot 50.9 percent from the floor, 35.7 percent from behind the arc and 44.4 percent from the line. The squad falls to 7-7 on the season.

Princeton shot 47.7 percent from the field and 72 percent from the charity stripe (18-25).

GAME #14 LA SALLE 51 AT PRINCETON 94

PRINCETON, N.J. (1/14/11) - Senior Addie Micir scored her 1,000th career point and led her Princeton women's basketball team to a 94-51 win over La Salle on Tuesday, Jan. 4 at Jadwin Gym.

Micir became the 18th women's basketball player in Princeton history to reach 1,000 points for her career. Micir joined the 1,000 Point Club on her first shot the game, hitting her 38th three-point basket of the season. She finished the game with 17 points, four rebounds, three assist, two steals and one block.

Junior Devona Allgood had 15 points, six rebounds, a block and a steal. Classmate Laura Johnson added a season-high 12 points and a game-high five steals and freshman Nicole Hung dropped in 10 points. Freshman Alex Rodgers matched Allgood in rebounds with six and added eight points, five assists and one steal. Sophomore Megan Bowen matched her career-high in points with nine.

As a team Princeton shot 54.7 percent (35-64), the third time the Tigers have finished a game shooting over 50 percent this season. From the foul line, Princeton hit 12-of-18, and was 52.2 percent from behind the arc, making 12-of-23.

Princeton quickly jumped out to a 10-point lead, 14-4, at 14:59. However La Salle made it a three-point game, 18-15, nearly five minutes later. Ebonee Jones and Jess Koci combined for 15 points on the 11-4 run.

The Tigers quickly ended the Explorers' run on a 10-3 streak, with Lauren Edwards, Micir and Johnson all draining three-pointers and Lauren Polansky burying a layup to make it a 14-point game, 29-15, at 7:02.

Ashley Gale would score her team's next five points to make it an 11-point game but it would be the Explorers' last points of the half.

Hung went on a personal 7-0 run, shooting 2-for-2 from the free-throw line, hitting a jumper and a long ball to put the Tigers ahead by 18, 38-20. Her seven points in less than three minutes surpassed her personal best of six points in a game, as she finished with 10.

Johnson added a long jumper and Micir hit her third three of the half to send her team into the locker room with a 43-20 lead.

Princeton shot 50 percent (17-34) in the first half, the eighth time the team has shot over 50 percent in a half this season. La Salle hit just nine of its 34, for 26.5 percent shooting.

La Salle continued its offensive struggles in the second half. It would be held without a basket from the field for 9:37, spanning both halves. Jones would end the drought at 15:02, but Princeton had expanded on its lead, and was up 53-20.

Four minutes later Princeton had a 40-point edge, 65-25 on a three from the wing by Rodgers. Micir would follow up with two threes herself making it 44-point game.

The team's would go back-and-forth for the remainder of the game, with 18 points coming from the free-throw line and 28 from the floor.

The Tigers would take their largest lead of the game, and of the season, a 47-point advantage with 2:11 to play on a three ball from Rodgers, 94-47. La Salle would close out the game with the final two baskets.

Tonight's game marked Princeton's largest margin of victory over an opponent this season and the third time this season the Tigers have beaten a team by 40+ points. It is also the most points amassed in a game this season for the Tigers.

Gale led all players with 23 points on 6-for-20 shooting. She added seven rebounds, four steals and one block and one assist. Jones finished with 13 points, four rebounds, two assists, two steals and a block. Koci picked up a double-double with 12 points and team-best 10 rebounds.

La Salle shot 28.6 percent overall, 80 percent from the line and 15.8 percent from long range. The Explorers fall to 4-10 on the season.

GAME #16 PRINCETON 70 AT BROWN 48

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (1/28/11) - Junior Devona Allgood recorded a double-double and senior Addie Micir scored 18 as the Princeton women's basketball team posted a 70-48 win over Brown on Friday, Jan. 28 at the Pizzitola Sports Center.

The game was the Tigers' first in 24 days, due to exams and semester break. Princeton improves to 13-3 overall and 2-0 in the Ivy League.

Micir hit a three on Princeton's first possession as the Tigers held control of the game from the opening tip. However it would be the long ball that would give Brown a 12-11 lead at 13:42. All 12 points came off of three-point baskets from Lindsay Steele, Hannah Passafiume and two from Lindsay Nickel.

Junior Lauren Edwards and Micir would hit back-to-back baskets from behind the arc to put the Tigers back out ahead, 17-12 midway through the first half. After a layup from Sheila Dixon, Princeton would go on a 9-0 run to take a double-digit lead, 26-14.

Nickel would collect her third three-point basket of the game, as the teams would trade baskets for the final 5:30 of the half.

Edwards would drain another three at the buzzer to give Princeton a 35-22 lead at halftime.

Both teams would have six made threes at the half, with the Tigers shooting 6-for-11 and Brown 6-for-14 from behind the arc.

The Tigers grabbed a 24-point lead, 48-24, with a 13-2 run to start the second half. Micir would hit two more threes and Kate Miller added four points in the stretch.

It would take 10 minutes for Princeton to regain that 24-point lead as Brown responded with an 11-1 run holding Princeton scoreless from the field for 6:41 to make it an 14-point game, 49-35 at 8:29.

Allgood would end Princeton's cold stretch with a layup and one at 8:06, 52-35. The Tigers would take back that 24-point lead on a 9-2 spurt, led by Edwards' five points, making it a 61-37 game at 4:33.

Brown would get as close as 17, 65-48, with 49 seconds left before freshman Alex Rodgers closed out the game with five points.

Micir would match her career best for threes in a game with six, a mark she has reached in six games in her career. Allgood's double-double was her first since Princeton defeated USC in late November, as she scored 10 points and had 11 rebounds. She would also pick up a career-high six blocks. Edwards was also in double digits in scoring with 13 points. Sophomore Meg Bowen was second on the team in rebounds with six, and she also scored six. Junior Laura Johnson led the team in assists with four.

Princeton shot 43.3 percent (26-60) overall, 47.6 percent (10-21) from behind the arc and was 57.1 percent (8-14) from the stripe.

Nickel would score 11 points to lead the Bears in scoring. Aileen Daniels and Passafiume had seven each, while Dixon added six and a team-high four steals. Daniels and Passafiume had five rebounds apiece. Brown shot 29.5 percent (18-61) overall, 30 percent from long range (6-20) and went 6-for-9 from the line. Brown falls to 4-13 overall and 0-3 in the league.

GAME #17 PRINCETON 52 AT YALE 37

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (1/29/11) - It was a second half surge with junior Lauren Edwards leading the charge as Princeton women's basket turned in a 52-37 win over Yale on Saturday, Jan. 29 at Lee Amphitheater. After scoring just one basket in the first half, Edwards would score nearly half of her team's second-half points with 15 of the Tigers' 32.

It was a back and forth affair in the first half that saw eight lead changes and two scoring ties, as Princeton struggled to find its rhythm on either end of the court.

The Tigers' offense started to come together and the defense clamped down, holding Yale to 4-for-19 shooting in the second half. Princeton also forced Yale into seven turnovers in the first 13 minutes, which enabled the Tigers to take the lead.

A three by Jenna Graf stretched Yale's lead to five at the start of the second half, but the Tigers responded with back-to-back layups to make it a one-point game, 25-24 at 17:39. Two minutes later Devona Allgood had the game tied at 26-26.

A three-point play by Addie Micir gave Princeton its first lead since 2:11 in the first half, when she gave her team a 29-28 lead at 14:40. Edwards gave the Tigers' a three-point lead with a jumper 40 seconds later, 31-28.

After a basket by Graf, Edwards scored a pull-up jumper that would spark not only the offense, as Princeton went on a 14-1 run to make it a 15-point game, but also on the defensive end as Yale would be held scoreless from the field for 10:04.

An Allie Messimer layup at 3:42 would end the Bulldogs drought but the damage had already been done, as Princeton went on to the 52-37 win.

Mady Gobrecht opened the game with a layup and would be the only Bulldog to swish the net, as she scored nine points in the first 5:26. Princeton would get its nine points from Lauren Polansky, Allgood and Edwards, as the team's stood tied at 9-9 at 13:24.

A three by Messinger gave Yale its largest lead, 13-9, at 10:41. Princeton responded with a 7-2 run to take the lead, 18-17, on a layup by Micir at 4:25. It would be shortlived as Alicia Seelaus responded her next trip down the court with a lay-in.

Kate Miller would score on a layup to put Princeton ahead by one, 20-19, before Yale ended the half with three points to take a 22-20 lead into the locker room.

The last time the team trailed an Ivy game at halftime was against Dartmouth on March 5, when the Tigers were down 26-21 and came back to win 64-43.

Micir finished with a game-high 18 points and led the team on the glass with seven rebounds. Allgood would add nine and six rebounds. Miller led the team in steals with three steals while Polansky dished out a team-high four assists. Princeton shot 47.8 percent overall, 54.5 percent from the line and 25 percent from long range.

Gobrecht paced the Bulldog offense with 13 points, a team-high six rebounds, three blocks and three assists. Messimer and Graf contributed seven points. Aarica West added five rebounds. The team shot 30.2 percent overall, 61.5 percent from the charity stripe and 16.7 percent from behind the arc.

Princeton improves to 14-3 overall and 3-0 in the Ivy League, while Yale drops to 7-10 overall with its first league loss of the season to fall to 3-1 in conference play.

GAME #18 PRINCETON 67 AT HARVARD 73

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (2/4/10) - Princeton's conference streak, the fourth longest in the nation, stops at 22 as the Harvard women's basketball team defeated the Tigers 73-67 at Lavietes Pavilion on Friday, Feb. 4 in the battle of the Ivy League unbeatens.

Princeton drops into second place, with a 3-1 Ivy League record and a 14-4 overall mark. Harvard improves to 4-0 and 12-6 overall.

The Crimson had a 35-25 lead after the first half, getting 16 points in the paint while Princeton struggled not getting any inside. Princeton's big three combined for 2-for-13 in the first half, as Harvard shot 56 percent from the floor.

The game would come down to the final seconds, as Princeton would take its first lead of the game with 3:21 to play. It would be a two-point game with 11 seconds left but Harvard would keep Princeton at bay and hang on for the win, hitting four free throws in the closing seconds.

Harvard started the game on an 8-0 run with back-to-back and ones. Devona Allgood hit the back end of her two free throws but Victoria Lippert drained a three off the bench to give the Crimson a 10-point edge, 11-1 at 15:23.

Princeton would go on a 19-9 run over the next eight minutes to even the score at 20-20 on a cut in the lane by Laura Johnson. Johnson would lead the Tigers in scoring in the first half with 11.

Harvard scored the game's next six points, getting a three from Jasmine Evans and an old fashioned three-point play from Clarke. Lauren Edwards would finally get in the scorebook going 2-for-2 from the charity stripe at 4:12.

The Crimson would hit four more shots in the final 3:30, while the Tigers would get a single three from Johnson, her third of the half to match a season-best, as Harvard would take a 35-25 lead into the locker room.

Four minutes into the second half Harvard maintained its 10-point edge, 39-29. Princeton would try to chip away at the lead, but Harvard would quash any efforts. The Tigers would get as close as three, at 9:57, on a three-point play by Krystal Hill, but Harvard would answer with four straight to go back up by seven, 52-45.

Allgood hit her first three pointer on her first career attempt on a shot clock buzzer to make it a four-point game, 52-48, with 8:09 on the clock.

Harvard would match that three, and would maintain the seven-point edge, 57-50 at 6:23. Hill would get a layup at 5:37 and then a steal on the other end to go up with a fastbreak layup to make it 57-55 at 5:17.

Allgood would score the layup that would tie the game at 4:07, 57-57. Princeton would take its first lead of the game at 3:21 on a three-point from Edwards. She would add two free throws to five Princeton a 62-59 lead with 2:46 to play.

Harvard had a 7-0 run with Clark hitting two jumpers and Lippert draining a three from the top of the key as Princeton would miss two shots during the run as the Crimson had a 66-62 lead with 50 seconds left.

Micir would hit a long two with 11 seconds left to make it a two-point game, 69-67. The Tigers would foul the Crimson for the remainder to get the ball back, which would lead to four Harvard made free throws to settle the score 73-67.

Johnson would finish the game with a season-high 16 points and a career-high five assists. Allgood collected 14 points, 11 of which would come in the second half, and led the team on the glass with seven rebounds and two blocks. The senior captains Micir and Hill would add 12 and 11, respectively. Princeton shot 40.3 (25-62) overall, 45.5 percent from long range and 70 percent from the line.

Clark paced the Harvard defense with 18 points and Brogan Berry had 17 and a team-best eight assists. Lippert was also in double digits with 14 points and had a team-high seven rebounds and two blocks. Miriam Rutzen and Emma Markley would each contribute nine points. Harvard shot 50 percent for the game (24-48), 46.7 percent from behind the arc and 85.7 percent from the stripe.

Princeton has lost all four games in which it has trailed by double digits.

GAME #19
PRINCETON 75 AT DARTMOUTH 50

HANOVER, N.H. (2/5/11) - Sophomore Megan Bowen scored a career-high 14 points as the Princeton women's basketball team defeated Dartmouth 75-50 at Leede Arena on Saturday, Feb. 5.

All 12 Princeton players played in the game and each had at least two points, as the bench scored 38 of the team's points. Princeton got 52 points in the paint, 34 more than Dartmouth.

Junior Devona Allgood and senior Krystal Hill scored 12 points each, a season high for Hill. Junior Lauren Edwards had nine points and senior Addie Micir added eight. Bowen and Micir had eight rebounds apiece. Edwards would lead the team in assists with four and steals with three.

Both team struggled to sink a basket to start the game with the first field goal coming at 16:40, a layup by Allgood. Five minutes later Princeton would have a 13-6 lead. Two three's by Fiaziah Steen would keep her Big Green within four to make it 16-12 at 10:45.

The Tigers went on an 8-0 run to take a 14-point lead, 26-12 at 6:14 with Bowen and Hill combining for all eight points.

The teams would go back-and-forth for the remainder of first half, as the Tigers took a 38-25 lead into the locker room.

Dartmouth would cut the lead to 10, at 16:50, as the Big Green started the half on a 6-3 run. Princeton would answer with seven straight points to take a 17-point edge, 48-31 two minutes later.

An offensive putback by Kristen Helmstetter gave the Tigers a 54-33 lead at 9:46, it's first 20+ point lead of the game.

Dartmouth would only get within 18, 60-42, with 4:50 to play. Princeton would expand its lead, going up by as much as 26, 71-45 with less than two minutes remaining and would end with a 25-point edge.

Sasha Dosenko recorded a double-double with 13 points and 19 rebounds. She added three blocks and two assists. Steen also scored 13 points and had a team-high three steals. Cassie Cooper picked up nine points and six rebounds. Janelle Ross also added six boards. Dartmouth shot 29 percent overall, 62.5 percent from the stripe and 38.5 percent from behind the arc.

Princeton shot 47.8 percent from the floor, 71.4 percent from the free throw line and 28.6 percent from long range.

Princeton improves to 15-4 overall and 4-1 in the league, while Dartmouth drops to 5-14 overall and 1-4 in league play.

GAME #20
PRINCETON 57 vs. COLUMBIA 35

PRINCETON, N.J. (2/11/11) - A 57-35 win over Columbia, coupled with a Harvard loss at Yale, puts the Princeton women's basketball team back into first place in the Ivy League standings.

Princeton and Harvard are now both 5-1 in league play. Princeton and Columbia both struggled offensively in the game, particularly in the first half. The Tigers shot 7 for 28 while the Lions were just 4 of 32 from the field. Princeton did hold Columbia's leading scorer Kathleen Barry to just one point as she shot 0 for 6 in the first half.

For the game the Tigers got 29 points from their bench, while Columbia only got seven. Princeton had 30 points in the paint and 15 points came via turnovers.

Junior Devona Allgood had a game-high 13 points, seven rebounds and a block and a steal. Senior Krystal Hill added a season-high 12 points and two steals. Freshman Kristen Helmstetter recorded a career-high eight points, while pulling down five boards and earning an assist, block and steal. Senior Addie Micir led the Tigers on the glass with nine rebounds, matching her season-best, and would chip in five points. Sophomore Lauren Polansky matched her career-best of six steals and added five points.

Columbia would score the first two baskets of the game, but Princeton would score the next six. The Lions would tie the game at 6-6 with 11:57 to play.

The Tigers would go on a 14-1 run over the next 6:27 to take a 20-7 lead with 4:24 to play. Briana Orlich would go 2 for 2 from the charity stripe and Lauren Dwyer hit a jumper to cut Princeton's lead to nine with 2:41.

Neither team would score in the half's final 2:41, with Columbia shooting 0 for 6 and Princeton going 0 for 3, as the Tigers took a 20-11 lead into the locker room.

The teams each had four points to start the second half before Polansky drained a three and Hill slipped in a layup to make it a 14-point game, 29-15 3:37 into the second half.

Columbia would only get as close as 11, 33-22, at 14:26 as Princeton continued to expand on its lead going up by as much as 25, 53-28 on a three by Hill at 4:08.

Barry and Dwyer would each finish the game with 12 points. Dwyer had a team-high nine rebounds, while Courtney Bradford had eight. Columbia finished the night shooting 23 percent (14-61), shot 6 for 10 from the line and was 1 of 17 from long range. The team falls to 5-16 overall and 4-3 in league play, as Princeton ends its three-game winning streak.

Princeton shot 38.9 percent on the night, with a clip of 53.8 percent in the second half. The Tigers were 10 of 13 from the stripe and shot 5 of 12 from behind the arc. Princeton improves to 16-4 overall with its 17th consecutive home win.
